Date Requested: 1 July 2026
Status: Pending
Agency: General Services Administration

Request Type: FOIA

Request Information

Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, I request the records described below from the lease and project file for a single, identified leasing action: lease number GS-02P-LNY01055, solicitation 2NY0894, for the space described in SAM.gov as 42,377 rentable square feet, yielding 36,801 ANSI/BOMA Office Area square feet of office and related space, a 15-year term with 10 years firm, and a contract award amount of $35,574,506.70, located at 800 Corporate Blvd, Newburgh, New York 12550.

Each item below is limited to records within that lease and project file and the contracting officer's file for this action. I am not requesting a search of individual email accounts or records outside this file.

- The Request for Lease Proposals (RLP) issued for this action, together with every amendment and every exhibit and attachment, including the delineated area map, the program of requirements, and any room-by-room space program.
- Any package of additional agency requirements referenced in the RLP that was made available to offerors only on request to the lease contracting officer, including any requirements described as sensitive.
- The fully executed lease for this action and all of its attachments, exhibits, riders, and standard forms, including GSA Forms 1364, 1217, 3517, and 3518, and any occupancy agreement associated with the lease.
- Any Justification for No Practicable Alternatives, sole-source justification, or limited-competition justification prepared for this action.
- Records sufficient to show whether the General Services Administration conducted, considered, documented, deferred, or determined unnecessary any review under the National Environmental Policy Act for this action, including any categorical exclusion determination recorded on GSA Form 4002, any environmental assessment, and any documentation supporting the level of review selected.
- The floodplain and wetlands review records for the property, including any eight-step floodplain analysis, floodplain memorandum, and related FEMA flood-zone determination.

- The Design Intent Drawing (DID) workshop agenda and materials, and records sufficient to show the project's pricing and budget, including the tenant improvement allowance, the building specific amortized capital allowance, and any estimate of buildout costs above the standard allowance.
- The facility security level determination for the project and any Interagency Security Committee risk assessment or physical security requirements associated with it.
- The market survey, the records of expressions of interest and offers received, and records sufficient to identify the property or properties evaluated for this action.

Date range for record search shall be 01/01/2024 through 07/01/2026.

If you consider any part of this request unclear or unduly burdensome, please contact me so that I can narrow or clarify it rather than close it. I will accept records on a rolling basis, and I will accept the contents of the identified lease and project file in place of an item-by-item search where that is more efficient. These records are held in a discrete contract file and can be located by a professional employee with a reasonable amount of effort, as required by 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(3)(A).

Request for Expedited Processing

I request expedited processing under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E). As a reporter with Project Salt Box, a nonprofit news organization, I am primarily engaged in disseminating information: I gather records about federal detention contracting and publish reporting on them for the public. There is an urgency to inform the public about the federal government activity these records document.

The records concern a current and time-sensitive matter. The General Services Administration awarded this 15-year lease on June 24, 2026, for a facility that federal property records identify as an Immigration and Customs Enforcement site. The buildout and occupancy of the space lie ahead, and public interest in how the federal government is siting immigration enforcement facilities in the Hudson Valley is active now, reflected in the organized local opposition to a proposed detention facility in nearby Chester, New York, earlier this year and in continuing public attention to detention expansion in the region.

Whether federal agencies perform the environmental review that the National Environmental Policy Act requires before establishing immigration enforcement facilities is the subject of active federal litigation. In April 2026, a federal court in Maryland granted a preliminary injunction halting construction of an ICE detention facility in Williamsport, finding the state likely to prevail on its claim that ICE and the Department of Homeland Security had failed to conduct the environmental review NEPA requires. In New Jersey, ICE agreed under similar litigation to conduct an environmental assessment it had initially treated as unnecessary, and comparable challenges are pending in Michigan and elsewhere. Whether that review occurred for the Newburgh facility is among the questions these records would answer, and the environmental determination is one of the categories requested above.

Delay would undercut the value of these records. They show how the lease was solicited, priced, environmentally reviewed, and approved. The public's opportunity to examine those decisions is greatest before the facility is built out and placed in use, and it narrows as the project proceeds.

The agency must determine whether to grant expedited processing within 10 calendar days of this request. 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6)(E)(ii)(I).

I certify that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Fee Category and Fee Waiver

I am a representative of the news media, and fees should be limited accordingly under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II). Project Salt Box is a nonprofit news organization that gathers information about federal immigration detention contracting and homeland security spending, uses editorial judgment to turn primary records into original reporting, and publishes that reporting to the public on its Substack and through its public database at tracker.projectsaltbox.com. These records are sought for news reporting and not for any commercial use.

I separately request a waiver of all fees under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(A)(iii). Disclosure of the requested records is in the public interest because it is likely to contribute significantly to public understanding of the operations of the government, and it is not primarily in my commercial interest.

The request concerns the operations of the government. It seeks the leasing file for a single federal real-property action: how the General Services Administration solicited, priced, environmentally reviewed, and awarded a 15-year lease worth more than $35 million in public funds for a federal facility at 800 Corporate Blvd, Newburgh, New York.

The records are not already in the public domain and would meaningfully inform that understanding. SAM.gov discloses only a short award summary. The RLP and its amendments, the justification for the award, the environmental and floodplain determinations, the pricing and buildout figures, and the security classification exist only in the agency's file, and they are the records that show how the decision was made.

Disclosure will reach a broad public. Project Salt Box publishes its reporting and its source documents openly and maintains a searchable tracker of federal detention-related acquisitions that is used by readers, other newsrooms, and researchers. I will analyze the released records and report on them for that audience.

The contribution will be significant. There is current public interest in where and how the federal government is building immigration enforcement capacity in the Hudson Valley, and the requested records document the procurement and review of one such facility that is not otherwise on the public record.

I have no commercial interest in these records. Project Salt Box is a nonprofit and seeks them solely to inform the public.
